KVARNER

Made to be a region of health

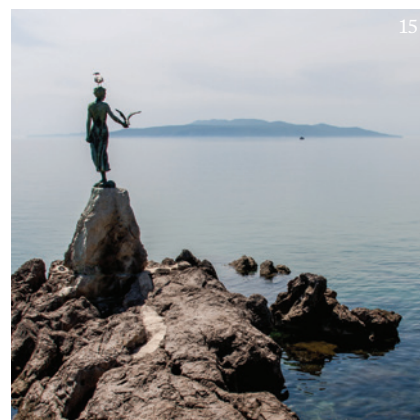

Kvarner has maintained a strong bond with health tourism for a long time, with scientific proof dating all the way back to the 19th century. Even then it was already completely clear that this region was predestined to be a health destination.

Your every step, breath and every positive thought invoked by the beauty of the landscape of this diverse region represents just that – health.

Kvarner is a common name for the coast, islands, and the nearby mountains. The unique Kvarner climate, the strength of the sea waves, the air with a marvellous combination of the effects of sea water and aromatic plants and other valuable characteristics have joined forces with a long tradition and expert staff. Moreover, modern thalassotherapy centres use the properties of sea water, algae and air in treatments aimed at increasing vitality and enhancing beauty.

The power of the Kvarner sea is at your service... Its exceptional food and abundant opportunities for an active life make Kvarner a genuine health destination whose main centres are the island of Lošinj, Opatija and Crikvenica with their rivieras, along with the islands of Krk and Rab, as well as the towns of Delnice and Skrad in the continental, forested part of the region.

This region has a long tourist tradition. The city of Opatija has the longest tradition, and its tourism history dates back to 1844. The first hotel was opened in 1885, and the first congress of balneologists held that same year decided that it should become a climatic health resort, which officially happened in 1889 via an imperial decree. Interestingly, in 1907, Opatija was ranked second best among the top 243 health resorts in the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy. Many kings and emperors stayed there, it was a source of inspiration and pleasure for many artists, and all of them contributed to the everlasting beauty and splendour of its buildings, promenades and parks.

This tradition has continued and Opatija still remains a beautiful tourist destination, famous for the rich offer of its wellness centres, as well as medical tourism.

Thalassotherapy Opatija has half a century of experience in working with cardiology, rheumatic, psychiatric and dermatological patients and is ranked among the very top treatment and rehabilitation institutions.

Opatija also has a well-developed wellness offer which fulfils today's standards, with numerous treatments aimed at preventing disease and contributing to health and beauty. If you are looking for a wellness centre with the most beautiful view of the sea, you might just find one here, despite the really strong competition.

Opatija is a city of beautiful architecture and parks, a twelve kilometre long promenade alongby the sea, genuine health therapy out in the open, with the sublime combination of the effects of the sea and Mount Učka, which serves as a backdrop for this town. A famous institution for the treatment of orthopaedic illnesses is located in Lovran, in the immediate vicinity of Opatija.

Opatija's offer is supplemented by the amenities of the nearby city of Rijeka, Kvarner's largest city, which has built on its role of a maritime port by adding to it the reputation of a developed and ever dynamic tourist centre, flush with monuments, numerous events, dynamic day and night life and specialised health and dental institutions. All in one!

Outstanding dental services are available in other parts of Kvarner as well, and they are a common reason for the visit of patients who can combine health with an enjoyable stay and a great gastronomic offer.

The island of Krk, also known as Insula Aurea or Golden Island, is a well-developed and popular tourist destination, connected to the mainland by a bridge. Apart from its climate and other benefits, as well as a rich history awarding it the nickname "the cradle of Croatian culture", Krk is also known for its healing mud in the bay of Klimno.

The island of Lošinj, with well-known towns of Mali Lošinj and Veli Lošinj, is nicknamed the "Island of Vitality" and is known in Croatia and abroad for its well-rounded concept of health care offered by health institutions, hotel complexes, local entrepreneurs as well as, like almost nowhere else, all of its residents. After all, the tourism concept of Lošinj has won the UNWTO award for the best European project, and it was the third best project internationally.

Due to its specific micro climate, whose positive effects have been confirmed through numerous studies, the island of Lošinj was declared a climatic health resort in 1892.

Along with professor Ambroz Haračić, who was responsible for the publication of meteorological research findings in 1884, Austrian balneologist and climate therapist dr. Conrad Clar also deserves to be mentioned. He confirmed the beneficial effects of the local climate through his research, but had the opportunity to further verify them through the experience of his son.

Lošinj has coupled its natural predispositions with modern health services, led by the Veli Lošinj Health Care Centre. The Centre offers programmes designed for treating respiratory tract illnesses and asthma, allergy and psoriasis treatment programmes, as well as classic rehabilitation programs for diseases of the locomotor system and neurological diseases.

Health tourism on the island is also complemented by admirable hotel service, systematic care for the environment, as well as staff expertise and innovativeness.

This concept is further strengthened by the fact that it does not include only professional health workers, but also hoteliers, wellness specialists and local residents. They complement the offer of this unique island of health and vitality through the gastronomic offer adapted to local and contemporary nutrition trends and the production of cosmetic preparations from aromatic herbs grown in this region...

The aromatic herbs, healthy food and pristine environment will be highly beneficial for your health, even if all you do is take walks around the island. Make sure to visit a special cultural attraction – the unique and original Museum of Apoxyomenos, adopt a dolphin, observe the flight of the griffon vulture and take deep breaths, walk along promenades, go cycling on designated bike trails... or just walk around and breathe deeply...

Health tourism is deeply embedded in the tradition of the Crikvenica Riviera, mentioned in foreign magazines and guides ever since the 19th century. Then and at the beginning of the following century, the first hydropathic institutions operated within large hotels, health resorts for children and adults started opening their doors and, in time, separate sanatoriums were built. In 1906, a special committee for health was established, and Crikvenica was officially proclaimed a climatic health resort and a seaside resort. Every following year started of a new chapter in the development of health tourism on this riviera, comprising Crikvenica, Selce, Dramalj etc.

They all come together to give a new impetus to the successes in the prevention and treatment of respiratory illness, sports injuries and the improvement of fitness for athletes, preparation and care of divers, etc.

Thalassotherapy, Crikvenica is a special hospital for medical rehabilitation and it provides treatment and rehabilitation for patients with respiratory diseases and rheumatism. The Terme Selce Polyclinic specialises in diagnostics, physical therapy and rehabilitation, sports medicine and special healthy living programmes.

All this is combined with a stay in beautiful surroundings, an excellent and diverse array of tourist services, enjoyment in the Mediterranean gastronomy and events that combine the past with the present, for the future, in such a pleasant and interesting way.

The path to health and the prevention of illness also leads to Rab, one of the lushest Adriatic islands, whose climate and wellness offers as well as over a hundred kilometres of cycling paths, have a beneficial effect on the health and on the spirit.

If you are in the mood for a change of scenery, you can visit another jewel of Kvarner, the mountains of the green Gorski Kotar, home to the Risnjak National Park and the towns of Delnice and Skrad.

With a simple stay on the islands, the coast or in the mountains, taking walks by the sea or through the forests, you are doing a lot for your health.

Kvarner's offer has been carefully designed and evolved, offering specialist education, continuously enriched with new elements, and presenting you with the path to health and an awakened joie de vivre.

ZADAR

Gifts of nature, just for you

If you are looking for a health destination which is strongly associated with an active vacation, you must already know a lot about the northernmost part of the Dalmatia region, the Zadar area. Here you can live an active life, restore or strengthen your health with the help of the unique gifts of Nature, in a region of such rich history and truly unparalleled natural attractions.

The city of Zadar, recently named the best European destination, is the central city of this area. Every time you take a walk through the old part of the city, you are walking through history, as witnessed by each and every street and square of the old town centre, symbolised wby the church of St. Donatus and the Forum city square.

The city's many monuments are interconnected in a beautiful cluster that still thrives in a dynamic lifestyle and is a stage for numerous events.

One of the undeniable attractions is the three-kilometre long Zadar city ramparts which formed part of the defence system delimiting the Zadar peninsula and were built by the Venetian Republic for the defence from the Turks in the 16th century. The ramparts have been under UNESCO protection since 2017.

But the city has somewhat recently been given several new modern features, the most popular being the Sea Organ and The Greeting to the Sun, some of the most beautiful sights to see in Zadar.

The region of Zadar has benefited from numerous health care institutions, dental clinics and wellness facilities thanks to the contemporary age and a focus on health tourism.

We must not forget to mention Biograd na Moru, a town where Croatian kings were once crowned, featuring a specialised orthopaedic institution with an 80-year-old tradition, known for its innovative treatments and physical therapy programs.

Wellness centres in the hotels in Zadar, Biograd na Moru, Starigrad Paklenica, the island of Pag or Petřčane offer rest and relaxation followint intense activity, all of them ready to be your destination of choice for relaxation, healthy living and vitality.

Nature's link to health is the most evident in the town of Nin, whose natural features created a layered history of health, inspiration and new life energy.

This is the largest Croatian site offering healing mud, whose effectiveness has throughout history and to this day been proven by numerous analyses, as well as by the most convincing testimonies – tens of thousands of people who have experienced the effectiveness of this “outdoor clinic” which has helped cure their rheumatic, dermatological and other diseases. Barefoot walks in the shallow, sandy Nin lagoon allow you to “absorb” all of the benefits of the healing sea water with its specific composition and salinity, and are extremely beneficial for the regeneration of your body.

Add a run through nature, some cycling, or a bit of adrenaline to these relaxing long walks. The Nin lagoon is the favourite destination of kitesurfers and surfers who love the area because of the favourable air and wind currents, the summer maestral wind and the bura during the other seasons.

It is definitely worth mentioning that Nin, a European destination of excellence, is known as the oldest Croatian royal town, the cradle of the Croatian state, and it houses the world's smallest cathedral and the coronation church of St. Nicholas. Manual harvesting of salt is another memorable experience, and it is done in the traditional way, just like in Roman times.

Salt and healing mud are also typical of another jewel in the Zadar region – the island of Pag. Just as if time has stopped, salt here is produced naturally and ecologically, and thanks to the climate and the geographic position it is also of the highest quality.

The island of Pag is often called “the island of stone” or “the moon island” and it is one of the sunniest islands of the Croatian Adriatic. Many guests visit the south-western part of the city of Pag, where they can experience the proven therapeutic properties of the healing mud found in the shallow area of the sea.

Studies carried out in Croatia and abroad have established that peloid mud is particularly effective in the treatment and rehabilitation of the locomotor system, rheumatic, neurological, gynaecological and skin diseases, and the physical therapies have shown outstanding therapeutic results.

If you are looking for a way to escape stress, you might find it on one of the many islands in the Zadar archipelago, 17 of which are permanently inhabited, still retelling the story of the sea and maritime tradition, the beauty and diversity of nature, as well as its power as evidenced by the seemingly endless bays and 150 meters high cliffs formed by waves.

The connection between the nature and mankind creates impressive force, and this island shows this togetherness and interdependence in the best possible way.

Every island is a story onto itself, but perhaps the greatest inspiration can be found on the heart-shaped island of Galešnjak, which, for a good reason, is also nicknamed the Island of Love.

Visitors are also attracted by the generous offer of this region, and many of them choose facilities that allow them to travel back in time and get to know their customs, lifestyle and, of course, gastronomy.

For those of us who are fascinated by nature (and aren't we all, at least to some extent?), there are two national parks: the Paklenica National Park and the Northern Velebit National Park, which serve as inexhaustible sources of inspiration for an active life and enjoying the nature.

ŠIBENIK

Stress-free happiness

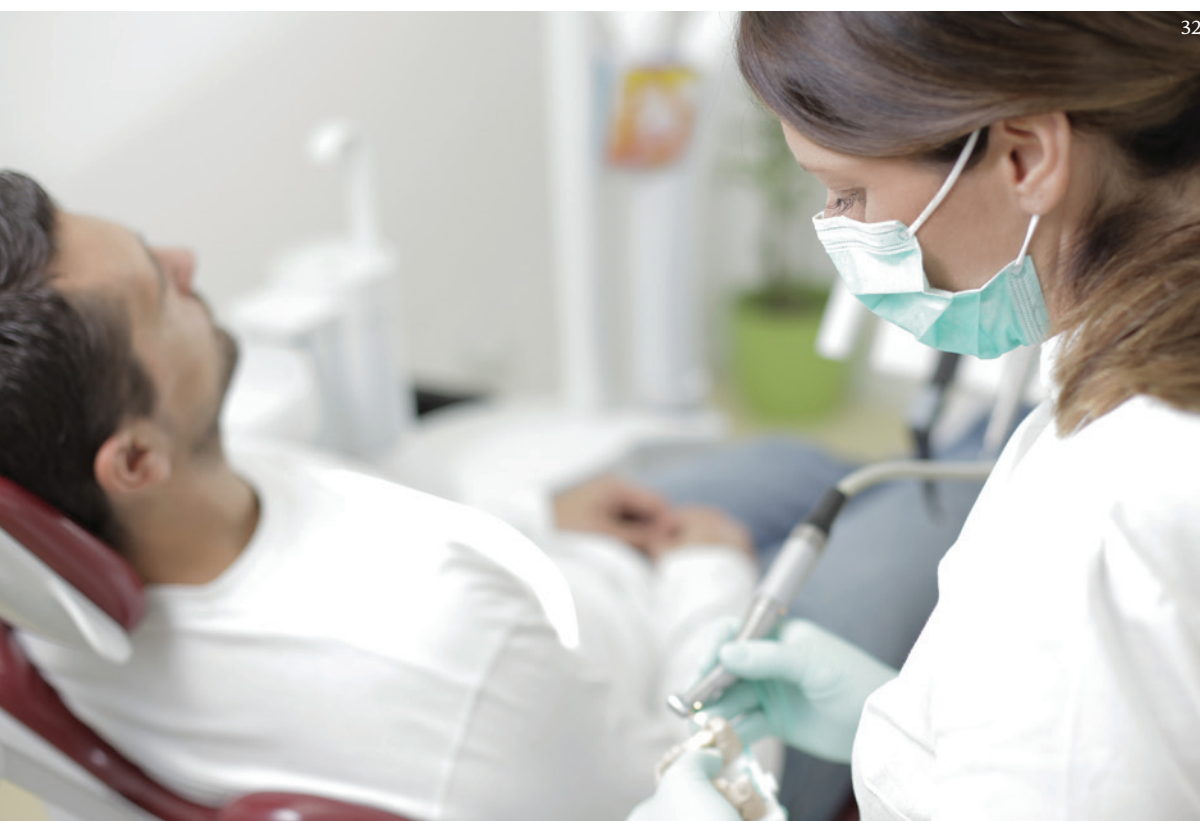

The Šibenik subregion is an area of active lifestyle, the coexistence of man and magnificent nature, and the ample offer of highly sophisticated dental tourism services.

The hotels here have a rich wellness offer tailored to the specific needs and expectations of modern tourists and aimed at eliminating the health issues characteristic of the modern lifestyle. The centre of this region is the city of Šibenik, which tourists consider a beautiful city full of history.

Today it is the only city in Croatia with two monuments under UNESCO protection.

The most important monument in Šibenik is the St. James Cathedral, under UNESCO protection, and known for having been constructed from white stone blocks without any wooden parts or any other bonding material as a support. In 2017, the fortress of St. Nicholas was also declared a monument under UNESCO protection.

We mustn't forget the tourist centre of Vodice, also known for its active holiday opportunities. Many visitors come here because of dental centres offering high quality and specialised dental services.

There is also Skradin, a romantic Mediterranean city whose entire city centre is a protected cultural monument.

The Šibenik hinterland, part of inland Dalmatia, offers interesting walks through history and tradition, which are a sight for sore eyes and will also tickle your taste buds.

This region boasts two national parks: the Krka National Park and the Kornati National Park, which are also an inexhaustible source of inspiration for those looking for an active lifestyle and natural surroundings in their quest for health.

There is a wide selection of activities to choose from, from hiking and cycling to adrenaline activities on the water, the sea or in the hills.

Relaxation after these activities or as a stand-alone program is possible in wellness centres that will provide you with great opportunities for care, rest, or remedying health issues.

The Šibenik region is also known for its excellent gastronomy, fine wines (including the Babić variety, originating from Primošten vineyards, a photograph of which is even exhibited in the UN building).

It is a genuine celebration of human perseverance and determination to overcome barren earth through hard work.

And there are many other reasons for visiting this region that will make you stronger and more resistant to life's challenges, as well as provide you with so many new reasons for happiness and laughter.

SPLIT

Healing aromas, flavours, and colours

Everyone finds their own way and manner to achieve health and equilibrium.

Sometimes it's enough to simply abandon your daily routine for a while in order to return stronger; other times you may need medical assistance coupled with somewhat unfamiliar aromas, colours, and flavours of a new place.

Whatever you choose, the Split subregion, belonging to the central part of the region of Dalmatia, has something for you. Something spectacular!

The islands, the coast and the interior all tell their own story.

Not far from Split lies the Makarska Riviera, a famous tourist destination known for its beauty and prime tourist infrastructure.

Makarska is the home to a rehabilitation and physical medicine centre where natural healing factors of the sea and the coast, such as the clean air, sea water, algae, sunlight and Mediterranean vegetation, are applied in the treatment of spinal diseases, rheumatic diseases, neurological conditions and diseases, orthopaedic illnesses and deformations, as well as in the rehabilitation of athletes.

Expert knowledge and technology will do a lot for your health, and combined with the healing effects of the climate and the environment – they will do everything.

The so-called Dalmatinska Zagora, the inner part of the Split region, connected to a coast via a mountain range stretching almost to the sea, also has a lot to offer. All nature enthusiasts can enjoy the beautiful and unusual landscapes, while sport-loving and adventurous love exploring both the gorgeous scenery and the limits of their own physical fitness. If you decide to travel through inland Dalmatia by car, you will receive quite an award as well – the local agricultural tourism facilities are a offer a glimpse into the authentic lifestyle through tradition, original flavours and hospitality: a journey to the past and the joy of the present.

This region offers great opportunities for daredevils, as they won't be able to resist going rafting on the Cetina River or trying out other sports on the sea, the rivers, mountains and cliffs.

Hiking and cycling trails, adrenaline sports, equestrian sports, traditions such as the Sinjska Alka, which has now been held for over three centuries...

So many events and experiences, so many reasons for a new happiness in life.

Health institutions and dental polyclinics provide superior health care. Numerous excellent hotels offer services tailored to the needs of the modern tourist who doesn't consider wellness centres, swimming pools and exquisite treatments only a current need, but also a way of life. An offer attuned to modern trends and a response to the challenges of contemporary life is here because of you and for you.

Every step in this area is a path towards health and a good mood, a combination of quality services and a simple a cup coffee enjoyed by the sea, an a cappella song performed by a local "klapa" in the Dalmatian squares, or the intoxicating scent of lavender.

The Dubrovnik region boasts beautiful nature, opulent fragrances, colours and flavours, long traditions and highly developed tourism where every guest will find the opportunity to relax, restore vital energy and encounter the much needed balance.

Another exceptional location in this region is the Mljet National Park, located in the western part of the island of Mljet, extremely lush with forests and aromatic plants.

And this list of beautiful and genuine virtues of this region does not stop here. We must mention the nearby Cavtat, the towns of Ston and Mali Ston, the Dubrovnik hinterland of Konavle, the islands of Lastovo, the Elaphites, the Pelješac peninsula and the island of Korčula, full of gorgeous and developed tourist centres.

The island of Korčula and the Pelješac peninsula are both famous for their health facilities.

The interior of the island of Korčula is abundant with wild aromatic and medicinal herbs used to treat various conditions. In the bay of Kali, near the town of Vela Luka, there is a source of healing mud and radioactive water, a winning combination for the treatment of chronic rheumatic, neurological and gynaecological issues.

Foreign research as well as personal experiences have confirmed the effectiveness of these gifts of Nature.

A special institute for contemporary physical medicine and rehabilitation was developed thanks to all of these features. Experiences of the local population and confirmed foreign studies have led to the development of a special institute for contemporary physical medicine and rehabilitation, which bases all of its programmes on these gifts of Nature.

Guests find equal enjoyment in the picturesque south-Dalmatian hinterland of Konavle, with its plentiful offer of active tourism, tradition and local gastronomical delicacies.

The lower course of the Neretva River and the traditional boat race are also unique and interesting.

Another extraordinary attraction worth mentioning are the Ston walls, the longest fortification in Europe and second longest in the world, right behind the Great Wall of China.

The Ston oysters are another one of Ston's special features, a magnificent delicacy with an unforgettable flavour.

One thing's for sure, no matter where you go in that region, beauty awaits you. Dubrovnik and its surrounding areas are a combination of beauty, art and joie de vivre that has seduced so many, and will seduce you as well.

The polyclinic specialises in diagnostics, physical therapy and rehabilitation, sports medicine (Top Sport Professional program), and a special program for the body and the mind, Healthy living by IBD.

Zagreb is also an engaging tourist city full of historical monuments and romantic stories, modern and friendly. It is also known as a city of parks that stretch through centre of the city and its squares and make up the historically famous Lenuzzi horseshoe.

Most of the city's attractions are located in the very centre and are accessible on foot.

When they are in the mood for rest and recreation, the residents of Zagreb often choose the Maksimir park, as well as the sports and recreation areas Jarun and Bundek, and the city's swimming pools.

In Zagreb you can enjoy great concerts and events, and attend sporting events.

This is a city that guarantees the highest quality health service, as evidenced by the large number of well-equipped healthcare facilities with top experts who will make your journey to health, good looks and improved mood easier, more enjoyable and safer.

But this is also a city whose relaxed atmosphere is the perfect backdrop for creating new friendships and enjoying the visit.

Why not combine health and pleasure in the best possible way? Zagreb is extremely popular with its visitors thanks to its many tourist attractions, events and an ideal proportion of historical heritage and contemporary facilities, serious approach and quality in providing services, and the Mediterranean relaxed atmosphere of its streets and squares.

Zagreb is famous for its Upper Town, an old and romantic historical core with various museums, and you can often see actors dressed as famous historical figures strolling along its streets, depicting the old way of life. An tourist attraction closely related to health is the city's farmers' market, Dolac, where you can buy fresh fruit and vegetables, meat, dairy products prepared the traditional way, as well as fresh flower bouquets (Zagreb's famous pušlek) and the omnipresent handicrafts and souvenirs.

The special atmosphere contributes to the large number of visitors, and makes the scene perfect for sipping coffee at a nearby café and watching people coming and going and coming back.

You will feel relaxed strolling along its streets, or sitting in one of its squares (the central one, the Ban Josip Jelačić square was chosen as one the most beautiful European squares), and enjoying this unique blend of spontaneity and hospitality, as well as outdoor events, dynamic entertainment and cultural life.

Here you can see monuments dating back thousands of years, attend notable exhibitions, concerts given by Croatian and international performers, or enjoy the meditative silence in one of the city's beautiful parks.

Zagreb has a large number of restaurants, ranging from international ones to those offering local cuisine from the Zagreb region, as well as from all of Croatia.

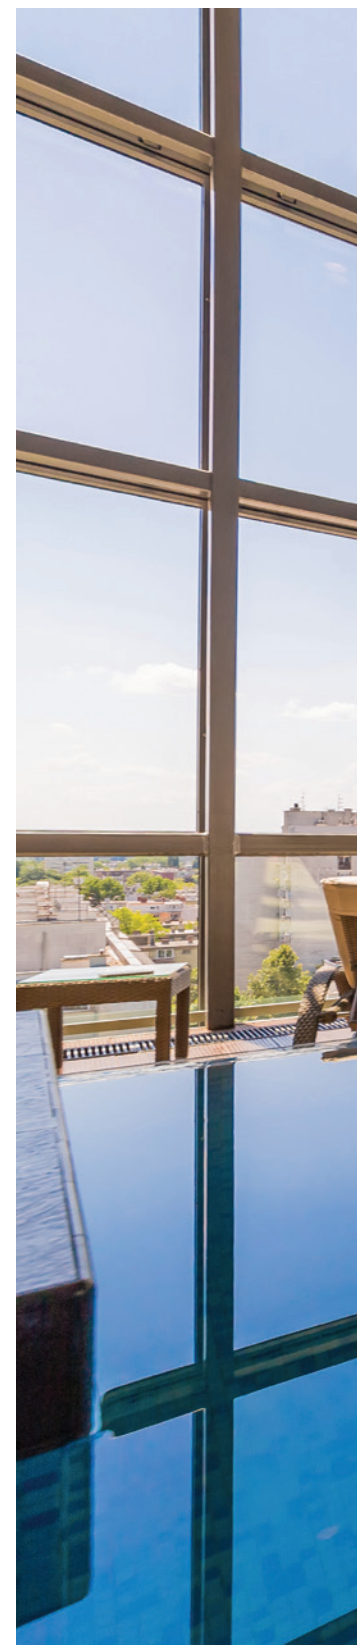

All year round, the streets of Zagreb feature a number of events providing guests and the Zagreb locals with the best musical and other artistic experiences, glimpses into the traditional customs, local gastronomy...

There is simply too many events to mention here, but the Advent in Zagreb must be pointed out as it has been declared the most beautiful in Europe among some very strong competition.

Another one of Zagreb's beautiful features is the backdrop of the city, the Medvednica Mountain, a part of which is protected as a nature park, and its highest peak, Sljeme. Sljeme is a popular year-round excursion destination in Zagreb, where you can always take a break and find a recreation area, some refreshment in the summer and skiing opportunities in winter.

The Sljeme slalom race has been included in the Women's Alpine Ski World Cup calendar since 2005, while the men's race was added three years later!

Everything you might need in your quest for health and vital energy is here, right next to you, thanks to road and air accessibility: expertise and reliability, modern offer and a thousand years of history, as well as a unique atmosphere which truly makes Zagreb a healthy city and a city of health.

LIKA - KARLOVAC

What is the sound of silence?

Breathe deeply, it's enough just to breathe deeply, ride a bike, take a walk, and you will already feel so much better...

The rivers that spring up and disappear, caves concealing worlds that are waiting to be explored...

There is so much excitement and mystery in Lika, a region whose clean air and water, long walks in beautiful natural surroundings, and opportunities for open-air activities already constitute health.

Something else: when was the last time you could hear your own thoughts clearly and consciously? Do you even know what the sound of silence is?

Lika connects the continental part of Croatia with the Adriatic coast. This interaction between the mountain and Mediterranean climate has created a special natural environment with many health benefits.

The entrance from central Croatia to Lika is the city of Karlovac. This historic city is symbolised by the four rivers that give it special energy and function as its recreational zone.

The city has many interesting historical monuments and museums, including the favourite excursion site of the Karlovac locals, the old town of Dubovac, as well as a new attraction, the fresh water aquarium Aquatica.

Karlovac is in the vicinity of several old towns (Ozalj, Ribnik and Bosiljevo), and if you are traveling towards central or southern Adriatic, it marks the entrance point to the region of Lika.

Lika is dominated by the Velebit Mountain, one of the most beautiful and highest Croatian mountains, whose northern part is a national park.

The youngest of eight Croatian national parks, it has received special status due to the diversity of its karst shapes, the flora and the fauna, and its landscape. The secrets and beauties of Velebit are further evidenced by the fact that the Paklenica National Park, known for its black pine forests, a rich plant world and karst forms, is located in its southern part.

The great world inventor Nikola Tesla was born in Lika, in the town of Smiljan. The Nikola Tesla Memorial Centre, with a total surface of 13,000 square metres, is dedicated to his life and work.

Lika is also known for its subterranean rivers and caves. We should also mention the Cerovac Caves, a complex of three caves with a total of four kilometres of explored canals, whose small part has been adapted for tourist visits.

The Lukina Jama cave in the Northern Velebit National Park is over 1.4 kilometres deep and is the deepest cave in Croatia and the fourteenth deepest cave in the world.

The river Gacka is ideal for water sports and it presents another challenge for guests planning an active vacation. If adrenaline is what you are searching for, you will find it here in a typical Lika village near the town of Gospić, the centre of this region. The local gastronomical offer is also attractive and varied. And you will be convinced of the fact that the traditional food flavours have been retained here, which is why the local restaurants and taverns greatly contribute to health and the regeneration of vital energy.

Although the entire region offers great possibilities for rest, relaxation and enjoyment, as well as adrenaline-packed activities, its greatest attraction is Croatia's most visited national park – the Plitvice Lakes. Experts will define it as tufa barrier waterfalls creating clear lakes in a permanent biodynamic process of tufa creation and growth, while for visitors from all over world it is first and foremost a magnificent string of 16 large and few smaller lakes cascading one into another, whose beauty leaves you breathless.

But an integral part of this beautiful mosaic is the almost 1300 different plant species, including 50 types of orchids, while its fauna consists of 321 species of butterflies, 157 species of birds, 20 species of bats... as well as some of the largest European beasts – the brown bear, wolf, and lynx.

UNESCO has included the Plitvice Lakes National Park in the World Heritage List because of its uniqueness, its natural beauty and its value. If you want to enjoy the beauty of the Plitvice Lakes and the active lifestyle of the area for a bit longer, we recommend staying in one of the hotels, camps or private accommodations.

Short and simple – for those who want to stay in pristine nature, explore its varied and layered worlds, breathe fresh air even during the worst summer heat and taste real home made food, Lika is the perfect choice, where the search for disease prevention, health and satisfaction in life is exciting and really easy – just be there and live an active life.

CENTRAL CROATIA

Romance and joie de vivre

You would already be doing a lot for your health by simply enjoying the beautiful castles, lush green hills and gorgeous views of the vineyards in central Croatia!!

You would already feel the difference by simply visiting cultural and historical sites, trying the excellent food offered on family farms and in restaurants, taking walks or cycling! But if you combine all of this with well-equipped medical institutions, health resorts and wellness centres where expert staff works in accordance with the strictest international standards, you will find everything you need for your health and vitality right at your fingertips in this beautiful region.

Central Croatia forms a wide ring around the city of Zagreb, but it also boasts the largest concentration of thermal springs and other health facilities in the continental part of the country.

Many visitors consider this region the most romantic part of the Croatian mainland, as it is filled with beautiful Baroque castles and rolling green hills, as well as numerous thermal springs with many health tourism facilities developed many years ago.

Recent times have introduced some new insights, technology and energy to the region. The towns of Tuhelj, Stubičke Toplice, Krapinske Toplice, Donja Stubica, Sv. Martin na Muri, Varaždinske Toplice, Daruvar, Topusko and Ivanić Grad all offer an impressive array of health resorts, medical tourism and wellness centres build around their thermal springs.

The region has grown thanks to extremely valuable natural factors which place the local thermal springs among the very best in Europe according to their quality, expert staff and tradition. Newly-refurbished and modern, tailored to the needs of modern and environmentally conscious consumers, the spas in central Croatia offer numerous facilities that will help you restore your health and vitality. Thanks to the expert staff, services that fulfil the needs of modern guests, these spas, just like the available network of hospitals and polyclinics, are equipped with state-of-the-art technology and places where you can combine therapy with a pleasant stay.

Great gastronomical offer, long wine routes, winding cycling trails, and interesting cultural and historical monuments and events, make it a region of romance, legends and fairytales, one you will gladly call your region of health and pleasure!

Some of the centres of this area are the towns of Krapina, Čakovec, Koprivnica and, above all, the Baroque city of Varaždin, whose architecture and interesting events attract numerous visitors. Visitors are also attracted to interesting features offered in central Croatia, including the Krapina Neanderthal Museum, the only one of its kind in the world, opened in 2010.

Our journey through this region of health starts in Hrvatsko Zagorje. The spa offer in Krapinske Toplice is based on ancient sources of thermomineral water known from the Roman times as Aquae Vivae, or the water of life. The water ranges from 39 to 41 degrees Celsius in temperature, and has a high content of calcium, magnesium and hydrocarbonates, while there is a locality of fango mud (which is used in certain therapies) right next to the springs.

The modern hospital located here specialises in the rehabilitation of patients with cardiological, neurological, rheumatic and orthopaedic illnesses, as well as for the rehabilitation of children.

For those seeking recreation, or wanting to improve their health, prevent diseases and improve their appearance, there is a water park with a well-equipped wellness centre.

The Stubičke Toplice spa resort bases its offer on the healing properties of thermal water whose temperature at the source is 43 – 69.5 °C. These healing properties were first recognized in the nineteenth century, which also marked the start of the focus on health tourism.

The medicinal thermal water of Stubičke Toplice is particularly suitable for the treatment of rheumatism of the joints and muscles, ischialgia, discopathy and posttraumatic conditions.

The spa offers wellness facilities as well. Terme Tuhelj were built at the very source of thermal water and healing peloid mud, known to heal and relax. This tourist and recreational centre with numerous swimming pools and a fun water park, a large wellness centre with a rich offer, as well as accommodation facilities, has everything you need in order to rest and relax. Along with recreational visitors, it also attracts athletes who come here for athlete preparation under expert supervision.

Terme Jezerčica are located in Donja Stubica, right at the natural thermal water spring. They boast a contemporary wellness centre as well as a water park with indoor and outdoor pools and attractions. Varaždinske Toplice is situated in the north-eastern part of Hrvatsko Zagorje.

This is the oldest thermal spa in Croatia, home to one of the most important continental archaeological complexes, the excavation site of a Roman thermal bath that served its purpose for four centuries.

The water rises from a depth of almost 1800 metres, and its journey to the very top of the spring, where the temperature is 58 °C, takes about 20,000 years.

Aside from the beneficial effects on improving the health and relaxation, these natural elements are also used to treat rheumatic, neurological and orthopaedic illnesses, as well as spinal diseases.

Today, Varaždinske Toplice is a respected thermal riviera with various spa and recreational facilities.

Life Class Terme Sv. Martin, located in Međimurje, near the city of Čakovec, have an aquapark, indoor and outdoor pools with thermal water, a wellness centre, a health centre offering spine therapies, as well as many sports fields. It offers traditional food sourced from local farms. All of this helped make Sv. Martin the destination for numerous guests coming here to improve their health, prevent diseases and remain in top shape.

Naftalan, a special hospital for medical rehabilitation, its natural factors making it unique in Europe and second in the world, is located in Ivanić Grad, in the Zagreb County. Naphthalene, an earth mineral oil is obtained through the distillation of oil of a high specific gravity, which falls into “heavy” oils.

The thermomineral water there is obtained from a depth of 1300 metres, and its temperature at the source is 60 degrees. Naftalan specializes in the treatment of skin diseases, locomotor system and rehabilitation following orthopaedic surgery, as well as in healing burns. Within Naftalan, there is a wellness centre whose packages are also based on its exceptional natural factors. The history of Topusko, located 65 kilometres away from Zagreb, in Sisak-Moslavina County and, began over 3000 years ago, when the Iapydes arrived to the natural mineral water springs.

The Romans who occupied this area also left recognisable traces of thermal baths meant for warriors, while in the 19th century, thanks to the value of the thermal spring and the clean air, Topusko became a popular gathering place for aristocrats and noblemen from many European countries.

In addition to treatment with warm mineral water, the Topusko Spa also offers mud baths (fango).

The quality of this thermal water (among the best in Europe) and other natural benefits of this area serve as the basis for the wellness offer and plentiful recreational services. The Daruvarske Toplice spa is located in the very centre of the city of Daruvar, one of the most beautiful small towns of continental Croatia, located in the Bjelovar-Bilogora County and 130 kilometres away from Zagreb.

It is located at the very source of medicinal thermal water and mineral mud springs, and surrounded by a large and beautifully designed Julius Park of great monumental and horticultural value.

As a natural healing factor, medicinal mineral mud called fango (peloid) is also used alongside the acratothermal (warm) water with a temperature of 46.6 °C. The spa specialises in the treatment of rheumatic diseases, medical rehabilitation, rehabilitation of athletes and the implementation of a programme which assists in the treatment of infertility.

Within Daruvarske Toplice, there is also a wellness centre with a rich offer of treatments based on natural elements.

Have we said everything about this region of health? Of course not, our true journey is just beginning...

SLAVONIA

A lovely new friendship

Everything here is devoted to making your stay enjoyable, relaxing and helping you feel the lightness of being.

The wheat fields, the rivers Drava and Danube popular with the tourists, healthy food and thermal water, horse farms and hundreds of kilometres of cycling trails all contribute to this healthy lifestyle.

You will feel genuine hospitality,
the true sense of being welcome, and the happiness that you have managed to stop time and give it to yourself as a gift.

Slavonia is a region in the eastern part of Croatia, whose centre, the city of Osijek, is permanently written in the memory of every person who has had the pleasure of strolling along its streets and the old town, the popular Citadel, at least once in their lifetime. The beautiful promenade along the river Drava, a relaxed cup of coffee by the river bank and the famous Osijek cathedral are just some of the attractions that bring visitors to Osijek over and over again.

The city is also the starting point for touring the Baranja region, surrounded by the rivers Danube and Drava, appealing to anyone wanting to explore tradition and enjoy the well-known gastronomic offer.

Baranja is a truly unique region, as is the way of life of its inhabitants, and the hospitality with which they welcome their guests, the food they bring to the table and the stories they share with their guests.

Slavonia is a region rich in thermal springs, the most famous one being in Bizovačke Toplice, whose spa and recreational offer is based on a rich source of thermomineral water that is unique in the world and characterized by experts as the hottest iodine hyperthermal salt water in Europe. Hydrotherapy in pools with thermomineral water, hydro-gymnastics, underwater massages, galvanic baths, kinesiotherapy, electrotherapy and thermal procedures are all treatments you can enjoy here.

The thermal water of Lipik has for centuries been put at the service of health. This is primarily owing to its constant temperature at the source (60 degrees Celsius), and its extraordinary balneological characteristics, suitable for the treatment of many diseases as well as for rehabilitation.

In this region there are also specialized medical institutions whose qualified specialists will help restore health, offer rehabilitation and assist in achieving a balanced lifestyle.

The beauty of Slavonia is ever more explored by travellers on big cruise ships who, sailing the Danube, stop in Vukovar and visit many sites and interesting cities, including Slavonski Brod, Vinkovci, Đakovo, and of course the already mentioned Osijek and Vukovar.

For those who prefer exploring new regions by bike, hundreds of kilometres of cycling trails provide a unique journey that combines physical activity, joy of discovery and a pleasant stay.

In the vicinity of Osijek there is the Kopački rit nature park, a floodplain created by the interaction of two large rivers, unique because of the so-called internal delta, created by the river Danube in the middle of its course, with the help of the river Drava. Such a phenomenon is not known in this form in any other European rivers and it gives this area international significance.

Around 270 species of birds inhabit this area, and ornithologists and observers from all over the world visit Kopački rit. This is also the largest natural fish hatchery and the natural habitat for numerous wildlife species, attracting recreational and sports hunters and fishermen. Kopački rit became a protected area in 1967, and a reserve in 1976.

Slavonia is abundant in vineyards, and the most famous one is Kutjevo, with its old cellars, built almost eight centuries ago, where you can taste some esteemed and vintage local wines, as well as the exquisite Kutjevo wines, winners of a number of awards.

There are still many stories to be told about Slavonia, so different and inspirational that only one rule applies – you will leave this region stronger, more optimistic and richer for at least one new, powerful and lasting friendship.

Professional and contemporary

Croatia has a long tradition of health tourism. Regardless of whether you are interested in medical or health tourism, or the wellness offer, you will be received by qualified and experts staff.

This is guaranteed by the well-developed education system with a long tradition, which follows contemporary trends.

The programmes applied in the vocational schools and at universities are fully aligned with the EU regulations, while the regulations in force in the Republic of Croatia guarantee that in these centres you will be greeted by expert staff who have completed the necessary education and are undergoing continuous training. Moreover, due to the need for expert knowledge and the desire to follow trends and adopt special techniques, the staff receives additional education both at home and abroad, as documented by their official documents and certificates.

Furthermore, Croatian medical teams are often world leaders in the development of new methods and insights, thanks to which – with the help advanced technologies and climatic characteristics – they can achieve results that serve as an example and inspiration to others.

Combine all this with the safety and the highest level of protection of the patients' rights, as well as the excellent climate and surroundings bursting with attractions, and you can safely say that health and enjoyment have never been this close.

The home of good health

We are certain you know a lot about the beauty of Croatia and the possibilities it offers to its tourists. The benefits of nature and climate, rich cultural and historical heritage, geographic position and traffic accessibility in this country nestled in the very heart of Europe, as well as high quality service, are undeniable advantages and a powerful reason to come here. And return.

Throughout the year, many island and coastal destinations as well as the developed network of medical, health and wellness facilities in the continental part of the country, are known for a successful formula that unites health care, preventive care, and stress relief.

Expert staff in extremely well equipped facilities – a list of which has been included in our special attachment, along with their specialisations and contact information – can help you with all your needs, consulting the previously collected documents or following examinations in local outstanding diagnostic centres.

But in your quest for health and vitality you can count on one very important ally: you can do so much for your physical and mental health by merely breathing in the scent of aromatic plants, walking, swimming, bathing in seawater pools and thermal springs, cycling or enjoying other sports activities.

We must not forget the benefits of the local traditionally grown food, as well as healthy drinking water and fresh air. After all, the World Health Organization recommends the Mediterranean diet as the healthiest. Indeed, it has been scientifically proven that people who have opted for a tasty Mediterranean diet rich in olive oil, fruit and vegetables, fish oils and some wine are less likely to suffer from heart disease, malignant and other modern diseases. And you can be sure that Croatia has a lot to offer in this regard.
