

2007

CROATIA
Full of life

GOLDEN PEN media award

PHOTO: ROVINJ (IVO BIOČINA)

www.croatia.hr

Rovinj

GOLDEN PEN 2007.

ROVINJ

The award, now in its third consecutive year, is conferred to foreign journalists by the Head Office of the Croatian National Tourist Board in two categories – for best print and best TV or radio piece. This year's presentation ceremony will be held in Istra, from 31 May to 3 June 2007.

Photo: CNTB

GRAND PRIX FOR THE BEST WRITTEN MATERIAL AND THE BEST TV MATERIAL IN 2006.

Michael Kracke, a freelance journalist from Germany, and Richard Quest, one of CNN's best journalists, are this year's recipients of the Zlatna penkala (Golden Pen) award, which the Croatian National Tourist Board gives to foreign tourism journalists for the best article or television feature on Croatia.

Kracke and Quest were presented with the awards on the Crveni otok island near Rovinj in the northern Adriatic on June 1.

Photo: Richard Quest

Kracke was awarded for organizing a number of study trips to Croatia last year and writing numerous features about the country, it was said. Quest received the Zlatna penkala for a CNN feature which presented the beauty and uniqueness of the southern Adriatic resort of Dubrovnik in a spontaneous and realistic fashion.

Photo: Michael Kracke