Welcome to Croatia!

Unique in so many ways, Croatia's roots stem from ancient times and its great cultural wealth tells of a turbulent history going back to the Roman era and continuing through the Renaissance, the baroque period and the Ottoman conquests right up to the present day, all of which is exceptionally appealing to all who visit the country. If we then add the rich cultural heritage, the amazing natural beauty which attracts visitors throughout the year, the 8 national parks, 12 nature reserves and the numerous UNESCO world heritage sites, Croatia truly becomes a country of incredible magnetic attraction.

Over 50 music and film festivals that inspire even the most hesitant, many of them at locations that date back to ancient times, when Roman soldiers and emperors were walking along these trails and routes and Ottoman pashas were conquering the territory, when the world's greatest writers were creating their masterpieces, and kings and dukes came to rest.

Croatia's attractions include beautiful beaches, one of the cleanest seas in the world, secluded bays, lakes and mystical mountain peaks, clean rivers and potable water, fantastic cuisine, prized wines and spirits, and a world-renowned cultural and natural heritage.

Croatia's fertile plains, where freshly-picked fruits are grown which you can taste, the castles, museums and parks, river ports and family farms, wineries, freshly-baked bread whose aroma tempts one to try it over and over again, are all part of the unexplored hinterland of Croatia, a place of mystery and secrets, dream and reality, the Croatia of feelings and senses.

Yes, Croatia is all that and so much more. It is the home of the necktie, the parachute, the torpedo, the mechanical pencil, the filament light bulb, the world's fastest electric car and the second oldest film festival in the world, the Dalmatian dog, Marco Polo, one of the oldest cities and parliaments in Europe, the second longest stretch of defensive walls in Europe, the smallest cathedral, the oldest arboretum, and the birthplace of great athletes. It is a country of exceptional strategic significance, a criss-cross of roads that connect the East and West of Europe, a beating artery, a country with a beautiful sea, green mountains, beautiful plains, rich fields and oil deposits. And last but by no means least– the Croats themselves! The Croatian people and their kindness are a magnet that keeps drawing tourists back. Sometimes the hospitality of the locals will make you wonder whether you are in your own home or simply – on holiday in Croatia!

Geographic position

Croatia occupies the largest part of the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea, which is the northernmost arm of the Mediterranean, extending furthest into the European landmass. Croatia's shoreline and numerous islands make up the majority of the Adriatic coastline. The narrow Dinara Mountain Range separates the country's Mediterranean region from its Central European continental part, which stretches from the eastern foothills of the Alps in the north-west to the banks of the Danube in the east, encompassing the southern part of the fertile Pannonian lowlands.

Surface area

Croatia's mainland covers an area of 56,594 km² and its coastal waters cover a surface area of 31,479 km².

Population

Croatia has 4,284,889 inhabitants.

Demographics

The majority of the population are Croats, with the largest minorities being Serbs, Bosnians, Italians, Albanians, the Roma, Hungarians, Slovenes and Czechs.

System of government

Croatia is a multi-party parliamentary republic.

Capital

With 807,254 inhabitants, Zagreb is the economic, transport, cultural and academic centre of the country.

Coastline length

The Croatian coastline extends 6,278 km, of which 1,880 km form up the mainland coastline, and 4,398 km the coastline of the islands, islets and rocks.

Number of islands, islets, rocks and reefs

Croatia has a total of 1,244 islands, islets and rocks. The largest islands are Krk and Cres. There are 47 inhabited islands.

Highest peak

Dinara 1,831 m above sea level.

Climate

There are three climate zones in Croatia: with temperate continental climate prevalent in the lowlands of the interior, alpine climate at altitudes above 1200 m, colder and with more snow, and Mediterranean climate along the Adriatic coast, characterised by predominantly sunny days, dry and hot summers, and mild and humid winters.

The average January air temperatures measured at meteorological stations in the plains of continental Croatia range between 0°C and 1.4°C, except for the centre of the city of Zagreb, where the average air temperature in the period 1991-2019 measured 2.5°C. The average January temperatures in Lika hover around 0°C. The average temperatures of the continental mountains and mountainous areas of Croatia at altitudes exceeding 750 m above sea level range between -3.5°C and -0.4°C. In Istria, average temperatures in January can be as low as 3.2°C inland or as high as 6.2°C on the coast. January temperatures in the Dalmatian hinterland range from 3.7°C to 5.2°C. The temperatures measured along the coast and islands of the northern Adriatic are on a scale between 5.7°C and 9.1°C, and between 7.0°C and 9.8°C in the south.

In July, the average air temperatures in continental Croatia range between 20.8°C and 23.1°C. The average July temperature in Lika is roughly 20°C. The continental mountains and mountainous areas of Croatia are pleasantly warm, with temperatures ranging from 13.6°C to 17.8°C. In July, typical temperatures in Istria range from 21.8°C in the interior to 25°C on the shore, with temperatures around 24°C in the Dalmatian hinterland. The average July temperatures throughout the northern Adriatic coast and islands oscillate between 24.5°C and 26.0°C, while the southern temperatures are somewhat higher, between 25.2°C and 26.8°C.

Average sea temperatures in the period 1981-2010 in January ranged from 10.7°C in the northern Adriatic to 14.4°C in the south. In July, at a stable 24°C, sea temperatures are mostly level in all parts of the Adriatic.

Currency

The official currency in Croatia is the euro (1 euro = 100 cents). Foreign currency can be exchanged in banks, exchange offices, post offices and in the majority of tourist information offices, hotels and campsites. Credit cards (Eurocard / Mastercard, Visa, American Express and Diners) are accepted in almost all hotels, marinas, restaurants, shops and cash machines.

Routes following the smallest towns in the world

THE ISTRIAN ROUTE

► Many civilisations and cultures have come and gone in Istria, all of them leaving much more than mere episodes of history. In this small area you will come across prehistoric hillforts, and ancient and fortified medieval towns which occupy almost every little hill in the Istrian hinterland; with characteristic streets, squares, churches and town halls. Discover why Hum is called the smallest town in the world and what inspired the French writer Jules Verne to locate the plot of one of his novels in Pazin. Find out why Dvigrad simply disappeared from the face of the earth in the 17th century – and much more. The gates of these tiny Istrian towns have been wide open for hundreds of years. Today, they are beckoning you... Welcome!

Rovinj 4

Gastronomy

Istrian cuisine has become world-famous, which is evidenced by the numerous mentions in prestigious enogastronomic guides, including the Michelin guide, that have listed the many restaurants and taverns from the peninsula in their elite recommendations.

Apart from culinary delights, Istra also offers exceptional wines and magnificent olive oil. Flos Olei, the global "Bible" of extra virgin olive oils, Vinibuoni d'Italia and the Michelin guide Itinerari tra i vigneti have filled their pages with Istrian oil and wine.

The strict criteria that have been met in order to be included in this prestigious club show that Istria really has something to offer to curious foodies who come to visit this charming Adriatic peninsula.

Cycling and walking trails: Cycling and walking trails: Istria is becoming an increasingly favourite destination for lovers of outdoor activities, which they can enjoy in all seasons. From the east to the west coast of the Istrian peninsula, from its hilly north over its green interior, all the way to the south coast of breath-taking beauty, more than 160 designated bike trails, about 80 marked walking trails, and 20 climbing expeditions stretch over Istria, covering it like a spider's web. Here you can walk along the sea coast, run through vineyards and enjoy a bike ride down the attractive trails that wind through little medieval towns.

Brijuni 3b

1. Proud guardians of Green Istria

Standing proud on the peaks of hills at the foot of which stretches the fertile valley of the River Mirna, the small towns of Grožnjan^{1a}, Opatlj, Motovun^{1b} and Buzet draw attention with their architecture and numerous events. South-east of Buzet lies the tiny medieval town of Hum, the centre of the old Slavic Glagolitic script, and home to precious 12th century frescoes. This town was officially declared the smallest town in the world!

The numerous bays and hills of central Istria are home to a plenitude of magical settlements, and at the heart of it all is the town of Pazin^{1c}. Its castle, the biggest and best preserved medieval fort in Istria, rises above the magnificent chasm of the Pazinčica river. Above the Raša river valley lies Barban, famous for the traditional chivalrous competition Tilting at the Ring.

2. The Beauty of the East Coast

On the eastern shore of the Istrian peninsula, where tall cliffs stand high above the blue Adriatic, you will find Labin² and Kršan, Sveta Nedelja, the youngest Istrian town Raša and the tourist gem Rabac. Labin will enchant you with its historic old town that has a town loggia and numerous palaces, and a church tower from the 17th century that attracts visitors with its impressive view over Kvarner Bay and Rabac.

Not far from Labin, Kršan has a cultural and historical heritage which dates back to the 11th century in some places, while the history of Raša only began in the 1930s when a town developed out of the nearby mining activities, called after a river that was mentioned even in historical sources from Antiquity.

Rabac was a small fishing village in the middle of the 19th century, but this beautiful sea bay could not stay hidden for long, and soon first visitors came, among them the English travel writer Richard Francis Burton who came to Rabac in 1876.

3. Ancient Istrian Towns

Pula^{3a}, with its incredible history, is mentioned first in the myth about the Argonauts and their quest for the golden fleece. The town's thousand-year-old history, from the Histri to the Roman Empire, Venetian Republic and Austro-Hungarian Empire, offers packed itineraries. Arena, a Roman amphitheatre, is Pula's largest monument from Antiquity dating back to the 1st century, which was originally used for gladiator fights. Today it acts as famous global stage for concerts and festivals. In the waters of southern Istria, full of coves and islets, lies the only Istrian national park – the Brioni islands^{3b}. Once it was the setting of the European and global jet set, and with its 14 islands it is famous for being one of the most beautiful archipelagos in the Mediterranean. Across from Brijuni lies the hidden and picturesque Fažana, a town which has carefully preserved and revived its centuries old fishing tradition. In its hinterland lies Vodnjan with the tallest bell tower in Istria, built on the traces of prehistoric hillforts shaped like concentric circles. The south-eastern part of the Istrian coast is full of hidden gems like the attractive coasts of Marčana and Ližnjan, while the southern tip of Istria offers one of the most touristy towns on the peninsula, Medulin, and the most southern cape Kamenjak, an exceptional protected environment surrounded by 11 uninhabited islands.

4. Rovinj⁴

Rovinj, the most romantic place in the Mediterranean, will seduce you with its narrow alleys and warm atmosphere, traditional songs with a glass of wine in taverns and the fishermen's boat batana, whose Project was inscribed in the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage List. The Church of St Euphemia, ranked among the most beautiful achievements of the baroque period in Istria, dominates the small coastal town of Rovinj. St Euphemia is the patron saint of the town and her relics are housed in a marble sarcophagus in this church.

Bale, a typical Istrian town built on a hill with narrow streets and stone houses, will enchant you with its beauty and authenticity. If you continue to travel further along the roads of green Istria, you will find yourself in Svetvinčenat whose castle, churches and beautiful Renaissance square are the perfect background for fantastic artistic events. In Žminj old Istrian houses now offer agritourism, and apart from accommodation they offer home-made Istrian cooking. Near Kanfanar, the traffic hub of Istria, lies the most mysterious medieval town of Dvigrad.

5. Poreč⁵ and the Jewels of the West Coast

Poreč, once a Roman colony, is an exceptional example of a town built on Romanesque architecture with beautiful Venetian Gothic palaces. A walk in their surroundings will prove to be a unique experience. The Basilica of St Euphrasius is a unique example of Early Byzantine art in the Mediterranean, dating from the 6th century, commissioned by Bishop Euphrasius. The entire complex was inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List. The Tara and Vabriga area is famous for its superb extra virgin olive oil. The hinterland of the Istrian riviera is also quite unique: Kaštelir and Labinci, Višnjan and Vižinada are surrounded with fertile fields, olive groves and vineyards. Vrsar and Funtana, fishing villages between Poreč and Lim Bay, will enchant you with their unique archipelago, green environment, and crystal-clear seas.

6. Northwestern Istria

Umag^{6a} is a town with a specific history: discovered by Roman aristocracy who decided to adopt it as their summer home. The glitter and glamour of these days can be seen even today in the old Venetian houses located in the town centre. Novigrad^{6b}, a typical fishing village, with its well-protected bay and picturesque coast, full of rich cultural heritage, abounds in historical monuments and excellent culinary delights.

In their hinterland lie wonderful hill spots – fortresses offering incredible views, with a fascinating history of their own. The towns of Buje and Brtonigla are the centres of this famous area known for wines and olive cultivation.

► An encounter with different worlds is just a mild comparison to what one can see and feel in the majestic Opatija and Crikvenica, the maritime Rijeka, the stone-carved island of Krk, and the forest-covered Gorski Kotar. The diversity does not end there. It continues to our other islands, the golden island of Krk and Cres, the healing island of Lošinj, the sandy Susak, the flower-covered Ilovik and the wooded island of Rab. What is the common theme of all of them? Long ago in the 19th century, this was recognised by the European aristocracy, who chose this particular area, blessed with a mild climate and lush Mediterranean vegetation for their holidays. It is thanks to them that the first luxurious villas and hotels came to be built, and the foundations of the first Croatian resorts were laid: Opatija, Crikvenica, Novi Vinodol... The illustrious members of the nobility were not the only global travellers; the mariners of Lošinj also sailed all over the world, bringing back over 80 species of exotic plants from their voyages. The gardens of small towns are filled with flowers, the landscapes are resplendent with forests and olive groves; shrubs of sage, rosemary and lavender are all around you, wherever you go. Welcome to the fragrant gates of the Adriatic.

Rijeka is a city with a rich history and a vibrant present, full of new perspectives and a zest for life. In 2020, it became the first city in Croatia to be named European Capital of Culture. Rijeka, along with the cities of Bakar, Kastav, and Kraljevica, as well as the municipalities of Čavle, Jelenje, Klana, Kostrena, and Viškovo, offers memorable experiences and a chance to discover cultural and historical monuments, as well as to enjoy the culinary offer and numerous cultural, entertainment, and sports facilities in unique locations. In Rijeka and the charming surrounding towns – so diverse and so full of personality – each story is special and different. For centuries, the city of Rijeka, a maritime and carnival centre, has thrived under the watchful eye of the Trsat fortress, the oldest shrine dedicated to Our Lady in Croatia and the largest pilgrimage centre in western Croatia, where the Holy Father John Paul II stayed in 2003, with the Franciscan monastery, church, and the famous Chapel of Votive Gifts.

The museum of Apoxyomenos is a unique architectural and archaeological cultural institution in the Mediterranean, entirely devoted to one exhibit – the bronze statue of the young athlete Apoxyomenos. The statue was found in the waters of the island of Lošinj, at a depth of 45 metres, by a Belgian tourist in 1997. Apoxyomenos was extracted from the sea depths where he spent the past two millennia. The museum of Apoxyomenos tells the story of the athlete with perfect anatomical proportions in an original way. It is a work of art that impresses with its complete and beautiful design. The museum of Apoxyomenos, dedicated to this unique archaeological find from the Mediterranean and its story, was opened in May 2016 in the Kvarner palace, in the centre of Mali Lošinj. This beautiful ancient sculpture became a symbol of the island of Lošinj during the two decades it took to extract and restore it and design a museum built solely for its housing. The timeless beauty of Apoxyomenos, its unusual and mysterious story and the distinctive museum display have impressed all visitors.

► The routes of Croatian rulers lead you on a journey through time, through the old Croatian capital towns of Nin, Knin, Biograd na Moru and Šibenik, and the beginning of Croatian sovereignty (7th-12th centuries), evoking the ghosts of ancient Croatian warrior-rulers. The trail begins in the north, on the vivid white cliffs underneath the Velebit mountain, where the view of the surreal landscape of Croatia's most indented island, Pag, stretches before you. Pag offers beautiful coves and beaches with unspoiled nature, as well as centres of modern tourism. The lace of Pag is very famous, as well as Pag cheese, and its secret ingredients, the wind "bura" and salt which give it a specific and recognisable flavour. To pass the routes of Croatian rulers means to feel a notable diversity of experiences given by thousand-year-old towns, such as the 3,000-year-old Zadar, whose defensive systems have been inscribed in the UNESCO World Heritage List. In Nin, you will find the smallest cathedral in the world, and the modern and lively tourist centres such as Biograd na Moru and picturesque places of the Dalmatian hinterland, Ravni Kotari, and the islands will overwhelm you with their specific Dalmatian temperament. All those who visit the medieval fortress of St Michael on the island of Ugljan during sunset, by bike or on foot, will have the opportunity to enjoy the view of an earthly paradise made up of emerald islands, and a golden string of pearls immersed in the sun that will be remembered forever.

Nature

National Park Paklenica, nature parks National Park Paklenica, nature parks Telašćica, Lake Vrana and Velebit, special reserves Lun, Velo and Malo Blato and special reserve Kolanjsko Blato (island of Pag) and significant landscape – the river Zrmanja canyon, eight areas of the Natura 2000 ecological network, areas of the Nin Lagoon with a natural eco-botanical garden and medicinal mud, shallow shores, wetlands, ornithological reserve containing 200 bird types, sandy beaches and eco saltwork. The significant landscape – the northwest part of Dugi Otok (the beach of Sakarun – included in 'The most beautiful beaches in the World' association, the Veli Rat lighthouse). Saljsko Polje olive grove – special botanical reserve, Strašna Peć cave, Brbišćica – geomorphological site. The canyon and mouth of the Karišnica river with a Franciscan monastery and medicinal mud.

Architectural sites

The town-monument of urban architecture (Pag), remains of Roman architecture and the biggest Roman temple on the Adriatic, examples of early-Croatian pre-Romanesque architecture (Nin), Roman structural elements – the 'cardo' and 'decumanus' type of streets, Roman forum, the most beautiful examples of Romanesque architecture in Croatia, city walls, urban installations such as the 'Sea Organ' and 'Greetings to the Sun', the oldest Gothic church in Dalmatia, the Church of St Francis (Zadar), the popular building style of island stone houses (Ugljan and Pašman), salt from the Nin saltworks. The remains and megalithic walls of ancient Asseria, Leonardo da Vinci's cannon on display at the Regional Museum in Benkovac, the traditional stone holiday houses of Bukovica and Ravni Kotari. Mirila – unique stone memorials along Velebit trails. Novigrad – a picturesque ambient town with partially preserved city walls whose medieval architecture has been mostly preserved until today. The urban complex of Novigrad was declared a cultural monument in 1972. The cultural and historical urban complex of Novigrad was declared a cultural good in 2011. Novigrad – the fortress Fortica where Mary, the Queen regnant of Hungary and Croatia, daughter of Louis the Great and wife of Sigismund of Luxembourg, was imprisoned with her mother, Elizabeth of Bosnia.

Gastronomy

Posedarje prosciutto, 'Ninski Šokol' – a smoked and cured meat product, 'mišni' cheese (a type of sheep's cheese), Pag cheese and lamb, 'prisnac' from Benkovac, high quality red and white wines from Ravni Kotari, Gegić white wines and Paška žutica, Maraschino liqueur, Novigrad mussels, olive oil, fish products from Kali; salted and marinated anchovies and sardines (island of Ugljan – Kali).

Known as 'white gold', salt was also a strategic product without which life was unimaginable for centuries. The salt pans in Pag ⁶ stretch over an area of 3.01 square kilometres and even today, they have significant importance. Nin saltworks cover an area of 55 ha and are located in the shallow lagoon of Nin Bay. Since ancient times, life has been linked to the sea, and so salt is a part of all of us. The salt from Pag and Nin contains all the minerals that, apart from water, are the basic ingredients of the natural sea. The Nin saltworks uses a traditional ecological method of producing salt which was used in Roman times and remains of Roman floodgates have been found in the salt pans.

The routes of Croatian rulers

Šibenik

NORTH DALMATIAN ROUTE. ŠIBENIK.

► The Routes of Croatian Rulers take you on a journey through time, from the beginnings of Croatian statehood between the 7th and 12th centuries, through the old Croatian towns that were once the capitals of the state – Nin, Knin, Biograd na Moru and Šibenik, evoking the spirits of ancient Croatian rulers and warriors. As you move further to the south, the Mediterranean ambience increasingly becomes overpowering. The gastronomic specialities such as the famous Drniš prosciutto, cheese from 'mišina', dishes baked under a lid known as a 'peka', clams with wine from the famous vineyards of Primošten, enjoyed by Croatian as well as many world rulers, and even those with the most refined tastes cannot resist them. From Skradin, a small gem of a town over 6,000 years old, we set off on the river Krka to Skradinski Buk, one of the most famous Croatian natural phenomena. By exploring the interior, you will be rewarded with one more old Croatian capital, the town of Knin, and in its surroundings time will fly during an active holiday that will refresh your body and soul. In Šibenik you will be amazed by the Cathedral of St James, whose dome overlooks medieval stone buildings, and its narrow streets which, in the warm summer evenings, invite you to socialise in the attractive Mediterranean ambience of the town. If, at the end of your trip on the Routes of Croatian Rulers, you are not surprised by Krapanj, the island of sponges which carries three epithets: the smallest, the lowest and the most inhabited island in the Mediterranean, then, by cruising through the Kornati National Park, a famous nautical paradise, you will surely experience complete fulfilment of the soul with positive emotions as you watch the display of many islands, islets and rocks that, like nowhere else, dance before your eyes.

Nature

Protected natural values – significant scenery of Čikola canyon, river Guduća, Murter, Lake Prokljan, significant scenery of Žut-Sit archipelago, river Krka – upper stream, the Channel of St Anthony and the bay of Šibenik, Gvozdеноvo-Kamenar, river Krčić, the Krka and Kornati national parks, Lake Vrana and Velebit Nature Park, Dinara mountain and Nature Park with the highest peak in Croatia, Sinjal (1831 m), the archipelago of 285 islands, islets and reefs, 'Stara straža' – geological monument of nature, Cetina river spring – a geological-geographical monument of nature, Morinje Bay and Makirina cove – medicinal mud.

Architectural sites

Šibenik, a town of fortresses – St Michael, St John, St Nicholas (UNESCO), Barone, the Cathedral of St James (UNESCO), the Medieval Mediterranean Garden of St Lawrence, the old Croatian St Saviour's Church, the tomb of the family of Ivan Meštrović, the Church of the Holy Saviour, the Knin Fortress, Prvić Šepurine – the best preserved original settlement of the island, the Jurlin Estate, the Krka hydroelectric power plant from 1895, the watermills on the river Krka, Primošten's authentic stone architecture, Bunje – the hinterland of Vodice, cultural-historical centres – Betina and Popovići, Biskupija.

Gastronomy

Sea specialities – 'Šibenik' mussel stew, seafood risotto, baked fish, fish brodetto, Drniš prosciutto, Pakovac cheese, cheese in a lamb skin sack, Skradin risotto, black risotto, Boraj and Kornati lamb, Skradin cake, 'rožata' (flan), 'kroštule' cookies (sweet, thinly rolled and twisted pieces of pastry, deep-fried), 'fritule' (doughnuts), Šibenik brandies (travarica, lozovača), prosecco, Primošten high quality 'Babić' red wine, 'Plavina' red wine, 'Lasina' red wine, 'Drniški Merlot' red wine, 'Maraština' and 'Debit' white wines.

Cycling trails: Šibenik, Krka National Park, Knin, island of Murter, Drniš, Grebaštica-Primošten-Rogoznica, Vodice-Murter-Pirovac, Skradin.

Hunting: Knin, Drniš, Šibenik, Vodice, Skradin.

Fishing: Big game fishing - Vodice, Jezera, Rogoznica, sea sport fishing.

The most important Marian shrine in Dalmatia houses the gold-crowned painting of Our Miraculous Lady of Sinj, which was brought here in 1687 by the Franciscans fleeing with people from Rama from the Turks. Believers have been visiting this shrine for over 300 years, particularly on 15th August, the Feast of the Assumption.

Routes of Old Sea Captains

SOUTH DALMATIAN ROUTE

Dubrovnik 5

► The routes of the old sea captains traverse an area of turbulent history and struggles for freedom, an area where trade, seafaring and shipping have been developed since ancient times and where life has always been lived in harmony with the sea and the rivers. Visit the ancient home of seafaring on the peninsula of Pelješac in the Maritime Museum in Orebić, the cradle of sea captains; in Korčula, the birthplace of Marco Polo; in the historical city of Dubrovnik, which was an independent republic for centuries, and this treasured tradition has continued in the modern-day sea and river ports of Ploče and Metković. In these parts, nature has crafted the wondrous landscapes of the Neretva Delta, a meeting-place between the river and the sea, the lowlands and the karst, the lake and the wetlands; of the eternal beauty of the Mljet National Park, with its lakes; the Elafiti islands of Koločep, Lopud and Šipan, with their Renaissance atmosphere and the diverse, mellow landscapes of Konavle. Look towards the open sea where fierce battles were once fought, where freedom was defended, and towards which merchant ships sailed the waters with billowing sails. In addition to the shipyard of the famous Dubrovnik carrack in Grgurčići (Šlano), the Dubrovnik Littoral (Šlano) is also the birthplace of four admirals of the Spanish navy.

Nature

Mljet National Park, Lastovo Islands Nature Park, monument of park architecture: Trsteno Arboretum, special reserves of the Neretva Delta (ichthyological and ornithological reserves), Mali Ston Bay (a reserve in the sea), the isle of Lokrum special reserve, Vela cave – a geomorphologic natural phenomenon (natural monument) (Vela Luka), the special reserve of Kočje (village of Žrnovo on the island of Korčula), Sapunara (island of Mljet) significant landscape, Cave of Odysseus (Mljet), Morvica and Ostaševica caves (Mljet), Konavoski Dvori (Konavle), special forest vegetation reserve with cypress trees: 'Pod Gospu' (Orebić), Ošjak (Vela Luka) forest park, Velika i Mala Petka (Dubrovnik) forest park, Bačina lakes, Lokve special herpetological reserve in Majkovi, the habitat of a strictly protected species, river turtles (Mauremys rivulata).

Architectural sites

Gothic and Gothic-Renaissance summer residences (from Pelješac to Konavle), Franciscan Monastery (Orebić), Ducal Palace (Luka Šipanska), Dubrovnik city walls with the towers Minčeta, Lovrijenac, Revelin, Bokar, St John, the Rector's Palace, the Franciscan Monastery (Dubrovnik), Dominican Monastery (Dubrovnik) and Sponza Palace (Dubrovnik), Church of St Blaise (Dubrovnik), Cathedral of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary (Dubrovnik), Franciscan Monastery (Rožat), the Račić family mausoleum (Cavtat), traditional stone architecture (Konavle) and Sokol town (the tower in Konavle), Ston walls (Ston), salt pans in Ston, the pre-Romanesque church Rotonda (Dubrovnik littoral), Dubrovnik littoral tombstones stećci, Rector's Palace (Dubrovnik littoral), Heritage House 'Dubrovačko primorje' (Dubrovnik littoral), Benedictine Monastery (Mljet), remains of a Roman palace and an Early Christian basilica (Polače – Mljet), 'stećak' tombstones from the area around Ploče, Plina Jezero.

Gastronomy

Seafood and fish, veal or octopus prepared under a 'peka' (cooking lid), eel or frog 'brodretto' (Neretva Valley), Mali Ston oysters and mussels (the first product in Croatia to be given the designation of origin), oysters and mussels of the Dubrovnik littoral (Bistrina). Cakes: Ston cake, 'kontonjata', 'mantala' and 'arancini' (Konavle), 'padišpanj', 'mantala', 'prikle' (Dubrovnik littoral), wines: Dingač and Postup (Pelješac), Pošip and Grk (Korčula), Malmsey of Dubrovnik (Konavle).

Health resorts: Vela Luka.

Cycling trails: Konavle, islands of Korčula (Blato Vela Luka) and Mljet (NP Mljet), Pelješac peninsula, thematic cycling trail – Stećak tombstones of the Dubrovnik Littoral (Slano – Bistrina), Neretva Valley, Bačina Lakes, Neretva – Valley of Life (thematic tourist road).

Routes following Natural Wonders

THE LIKA ROUTE

► If you want to connect with nature, you should certainly visit Karlovac – a town of parks on four rivers. It is not long before the low-lying landscapes are replaced by forested hills and mountains criss-crossed with the abundant springs of the cleanest European waters that quench the thirst of people across the oceans. Cross the winding bridge of the town of Slunj over the river Korana slowly, as beneath the bridge, between the waterfalls, the unique watermill village of Rastoke is situated. The multitude of sparkling waterfalls hints at the route of natural wonders which reveal themselves in all their glory at the Plitvice Lakes. The beauty and freshness of this part of the world's natural heritage, combined with traditional cuisine, are excellent reasons to take a break here. The area around Josipdol is a rich game reserve. Hiking enthusiasts will head towards Ogulin and Klek Mountain, the birthplace of hiking in Croatia. For those looking to directly encounter quiet and calming nature, Otočac and the Gacka River, rich in trout, are the right choice. At only 45 minutes' drive from Gospić, you can take a swim in Karlobag, where the sea is continuously chilled as the water flows in abundance from the subterranean layers of the mountain.

The uniqueness of karstic forms, landscapes, and wildlife are the reasons why UNESCO issued a declaration listing the entire Velebit Nature Park as part of the world network of biosphere reserves. Velebit offers various opportunities for active recreation: hiking, walking on educational trails, visiting caves, rafting and canoeing, cycling, mountaineering activities... One of the most important speleological sites in Croatia – the Cerovac Caves – are located in the southern part of the Velebit Nature Park. These caves are extremely rich in finds from the ancient past. In addition to numerous archaeological remains, they are also one of the largest finds of cave bears in Croatia. One of the most beautiful bays in Croatia, Zavrtnica Bay, is located in the northern part of the Velebit Nature Park, near Jablanac. A visit to Premužić trail, which passes through the most attractive parts of northern and central Velebit, is another interesting activity which should be on every visitor's to-do list. This trail is protected as cultural heritage and offers unforgettable views of the sea. The southern section of the Velebit Nature Park is enriched by the beauty of waterfalls, the depth of the canyons, and the richness of flora and fauna provided by the karst rivers Zrmanja and Krupa.

► A long time ago, members of the upper class, prominent gentlemen and the nobility, seeking to satisfy their aesthetic cravings and earthly comforts, took great care to select the right locations for their castles and manor houses. They then surrounded them with gardens, pleasure parks and copses. The fairies will take you through picturesque hills and colourful fields to Novi Dvori and the Lužnice castle in Zaprešić, the imposing Veliki Tabor, near Desinić, the romantic Trakošćan, the proud Zrinski castle in Čakovec, the castle with two towers in Gornja Rijeka and numerous other castles dotted on the hills of this area, which were once the hub of life, work, and cultural and political activities. Step into the past by visiting precious examples of rural architecture in Kumrovec, get to know the world of our primeval ancestors in the Krapina Neanderthal Museum, located right by the archaeological site in Krapina, or enjoy naïve art in Hlebine – the cradle of this form of art. Let the court fairies tell you the history and take you on a romantic journey to the long-gone days of the splendour and glory of the nobility.

The Routes of Subterranean Secrets

THE NORTHEASTERN ROUTE

Some secrets wait millions of years to be discovered. They were left deep in the rocks by creatures that lived in primeval times, when this part of the world was an ocean. Ivanić Grad has revealed its secret to the world. If you take a walk along the Trail of Subterranean Secrets, you will have the unusual experience of a life that ended a very long time ago. By meeting the local country people, who are the survivors of a now almost forgotten, modest way of life, amid relaxing nature where pastures and hills alternate, where time is reckoned by the sun, and where numerous fishponds and hunting grounds beckon one to come and enjoy all of it in good company, you will discover the natural side of your being. A barbecue by a fishpond is quite something else compared to the nearby and familiar urban centres like Bjelovar, Daruvar, Đurđevac, Virovitica, Garešnica, Kutina or Novska. Downstream from Sisak, the river Sava irrigates the woods and wetlands of the wondrous Lonjsko polje (Lonja Field), thus creating a splendid cradle for fish and many rare species of birds. Nestling among the beautiful mountains is an agricultural area offering food to remember; the places where local dishes can be savoured are Vrbovec, Bjelovar, Đurđevac, Daruvar, Velika Gorica, Sveti Ivan Zelina, Ivanić-Grad, and Dugo Selo.

The abundant waters that the River Sava brings down from the Alps and the Dinaric mountains flood the meadows and forests of Lonjsko Polje, thus creating excellent conditions for birds and for the spawning of fish. This is also an area in which we can still find that rare combination of preserved nature and traditional building heritage. As a wetland, Lonjsko Polje Nature Park is considered one of the most endangered habitats in the world. It constitutes the biggest protected wetland not only in Croatia, but in the whole Drava River basin and it is included in the so-called Ramsar List of Wetlands of International Importance because it is a waterbird habitat. According to the criteria of the EU Bird Directive, it is an Important Bird Area (IBA), comprising three fields: Lonjko, Mokro and Poganovo.

This well-preserved medieval fortress is interesting as a memorial of past turbulent times, but is also attractive both from its appearance and its location on the banks of the Kupa River, surrounded by broad meadows. During the Ottoman wars, the Sisak Fortress was built at the very place where the Kupa River empties into the Sava River. The process began in 1544, and it was ready for basic use in 1550. The fortress was mainly built using the debris from the period of ancient Sicily. Ottoman military commander Hasn-paša Predojević sieged the fortress three times, only to suffer his final defeat on 22 June 1593 in the Battle of Sisak – the battle to defend Sisak and the whole Kingdom of Croatia. A troop of 300 soldiers situated in the fortress and led by ban Toma Bakač Erdödy helped the Christian Army defend the fortress.

Turopolje is an area located in the valley of the river Sava, south of Zagreb, which has been permanently inhabited since prehistoric times. The specific features of present-day Turopolje are its preserved wooden chapels and aristocratic manors. The oldest exhibit in the Turopolje Museum is a mammoth's tusk that dates back to 10,000 B.C.

► Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, ranks among the oldest cities in Central Europe, as is evident from the documents dating back to 1094, when a diocese was established in this area. The city developed between the mountain of Medvednica and the river Sava. Its old centre consists of the medieval Gradec – today the home of the Croatian Government and Parliament – and Kaptol, the seat of the archbishop. Following the administrative unification of the two entities and the surrounding villages in the 19th century, the city experienced a surge in the construction of prestigious buildings, squares, and fountains, as well as the establishment of beautiful park-woods and parks which today make it one of the greenest cities in Europe.

A delight to walk through, the capital of Croatia attracts visitors with the lively atmosphere of its streets, numerous coffee shops, restaurants, and shopping. If you are looking for a break on your way to, or from, a seaside tourist resort, a break that would freshen up your journey, then Zagreb is the place to come to and it is waiting for you. Welcome!

Visit it... Savour it...

Architectural sites

The neo-Gothic Cathedral of the Assumption of Our Lady, the Romanesque-Gothic Church of St Mark, parts of the medieval city walls dating from the 13th century – the Stone Gate and the Lotrščak tower, the electric-powered funicular linking the Lower Town with the Upper Town and the neo-baroque building of the National Croatian Theatre dating from 1895, designed by the architects Fellner and Helmer.

Gastronomy

Roast turkey with 'mlinci', 'štrukli', 'špek fileki' (a thick soup prepared with tripe and bacon), pasta with cabbage, cottage cheese with cream, Zagreb steak.

Memories from Zagreb

Šestine umbrella – part of a traditional folk costume characteristic of the surroundings of Zagreb, which was regularly worn until the 1960s.

Zagreb

Today it is worn at folklore and similar events. The greatest concentration of these colourful umbrellas can be seen at Dolac – Zagreb's open-air market.

Paprenjak (pepper cookie) – an aromatic cookie made with flour, honey, walnuts and pepper, rectangular in shape, decorated with the reliefs of folklore motifs. As a traditional Croatian food it has a taste which is truly contradictory – but then, so is Croatian history as a whole. A sweet and peppery morsel for many a foreign palate.

Licitar heart – a heart-shaped red gingerbread gift which in Zagreb is a traditional expression of love and affection. In continental Croatia this originally edible sweet cake with honey was sold for centuries at church fêtes and was prepared for special occasions. With the help of moulds it can be made into various shapes and richly decorated. It is a favourite decoration of traditional Christmas trees.

Routes of the Pannonian Sea

THE SLAVONIA ROUTE

► Once an endless blue expanse of sea, today it glistens in gold and its islands are green mountains. All that is left of the great waters are tiny shells in the fertile plains of Slavonia. Yet the waters are still here – three great rivers, the Sava, the Drava, and the Danube hold this region in their embrace. People knew that in this area, to which nature was so generous, they would have a good home. However, the long-gone Pannonian Sea did leave its trace: a single saltwater spring in Bizovec. Its temperature (96°C) is unique in Europe. This alluring natural environment was greatly appreciated by the nobility, so much so that they built their castles here, indulged in hunting, fishing and, of course, the wines – which were also much appreciated in the courts of Europe and savoured at coronation ceremonies. The wine cellars of Ilok, Kutjevo, Erdut, Đakovo, and Belje are world famous. Now we can all enjoy the magic of times gone by. Following the Routes of the Pannonian Sea, discover the lovely songs of the area accompanied by tambouritzas, and enjoy the parades of people dressed in their colourful and festive folk costumes, men with their 'šokački' hats and young women with their gold ducat necklaces. The city of Vinkovci – the oldest continuously inhabited city in Europe. The town of Županja – the first town where football and tennis were played.

HM Queen Elizabeth II visited the state stud in Đakovo, back in 1972 with her family, and the Duchess of Cornwall, Camilla, visited the state stud farm in 2016. The Đakovo State Stud with its engaging tourist offer, attractive horse performances and the protected cultural heritage of Ivandvor is becoming a strong Croatian brand.

The State Stud Lipik was founded by Count Izidor Janković in 1843, and since that date the breeding and the selection of the Lipizzaner breed has been developing. The untouched nature, spending time with Lipizzaner horses, horseback riding and rides in the 'fijaker' carriages in Lipik are only one part of the tourist offer that attracts many visitors every year.

Customs Legislation

The customs law of the European Union and the national customs law of the Republic of Croatia are applicable on the territory of the Republic of Croatia as a European Union and customs union member state, as well as a common market participant.

Personal Luggage

Luggage may contain the following items:

1. personal belongings justifiably necessary for travel and absence from the place of usual permanent or temporary residence, such as toiletries, books, jewellery, footwear, clothing, portable electronic devices, etc. for the personal use of passengers or members of their family in a reasonable quantity, according to the purpose and duration of travel
2. other items of a non-commercial nature intended for the personal needs of the traveller and members of their family or intended as a gift.

The term luggage refers to all goods transported by any means of transport intended for the travel of natural persons, i.e., items that the passenger presents to the competent customs authorities on arrival, as well as those items that the passenger later submits to those authorities, provided that they can prove that all baggage was checked in at the same time at the time of departure with the person responsible for its transport.

The goods listed under item 1 are exempt from customs duties and value-added tax (hereinafter: VAT), regardless of their quantity, weight and value and age of passengers.

Non-commercial goods in the luggage of passengers are exempt from customs duties and VAT if their value does not exceed 430,00 € for passengers using air and sea transport, or 300,00 € for other types of transport.

Passengers under the age of 15 can be exempt from import duties and VAT if their value does not exceed 150,00 €, regardless of the type of transport used.

Exemption from customs duties and VAT for luggage goods subject to excise duty (alcoholic beverages and tobacco products) is related to quantity, not value. A part of such goods that exceeds the amount that is exempt from excise duty shall be charged both customs and VAT and excise duty.

More information on exemptions and restrictions for goods in travellers' personal luggage, including carrying food and other animal products, can be found at the following links:

VAT Refund upon Export

Natural persons who are neither residents nor have a usual address in the European Union are entitled to a VAT refund for goods purchased in the Republic of Croatia or another Member State of the Union, if the value of goods per invoice exceeds 98,21 € on the basis of a completed PDV-P form (for goods purchased in the Republic of Croatia) or Tax-Free forms or invoices (prescribed by the tax legislation of the relevant EU Member State), certified by Customs when exporting purchased goods outside the European Union. Customs may certify the form only if the goods are exported no later than three months after the month indicated on the invoice for delivered goods. An application for a VAT refund must be submitted within six months from the date of issue of the invoice.

Subsequent verification of the PDV-P form or the Tax-Free form or invoice after the goods have been exported outside the European Union is not possible.

Importing pets for non-commercial purposes

When travelling with pets, all travellers are obliged to follow certain rules that differ and depend on the country from which the pets come and/or the country of destination. Before travelling with pets, it is necessary to plan everything well, be well-informed, and find out about all the conditions that apply at the time of travel. If pets are brought into the Republic of Croatia from countries outside the European Union (third countries), the conditions for the entry of pets are stricter.

The import of pets, accompanied by the owner or a person authorised by the owner, from third countries is possible only at border crossings designated by the Ordinance on border crossings designated for non-commercial movement of pets.

Non-commercial movement of pets means the movement of up to five pets, accompanied by the owner or other person responsible for them, provided that these pets are not intended for sale, delivery to another owner or for other commercial purposes. Their relocation must be prompted by the need to travel of the owner with whom they are travelling in the same means of transport.

Health Services

Hospitals and clinics are found in all larger towns and cities, while smaller places have outpatient units and pharmacies. Foreign visitors who have compulsory health insurance in other EU countries and EEA (Norway, Iceland and Lichtenstein) and Switzerland during their temporary stay in Croatia have the right to basic healthcare, on the basis of the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). Healthcare on the basis of the EHIC is provided in all healthcare institutions and with all MDs that have a regular contract with the Croatian Health Insurance Fund. They only bear the cost of participation in cases when Croatian insured persons pay it as well.

Tourists that have compulsory insurance in countries which have signed a social security agreement with Croatia regulating the use of healthcare services (Bosnia and Herzegovina, Serbia, Montenegro, FYRM, Turkey) have the right to emergency healthcare during their temporary stay in Croatia. The precondition is that they request from their insurer the certificate of the right to healthcare during their temporary stay in Croatia, before they leave for Croatia. The Croatian Health Insurance Fund (in the place of their stay) will change it into a health insurance certificate. They may use healthcare services on the basis of the abovementioned certificate in contracting healthcare institutions and MDs, and will only bear the cost of participation in cases when Croatian insured persons pay it as well.

Persons coming from third countries (countries that are not EU/EEA members, Switzerland or contracting countries) bear all healthcare costs in Croatia themselves. For further information, please contact the Croatian Health Insurance Fund – compulsory health insurance 0800 79 79, premium health insurance 0800 79 89; Ministry of Health toll-free number 0800 79 99; Web: www.hzzo.hr, and the National contact point for cross-border healthcare, E-mail: ncp-croatia@hzzo.hr, Tel: + 385 1 644 90 90, Web: www.hzzo.hr.

Documents

On the territory of the Republic of Croatia only a person holding a valid driving licence issued in the Republic of Croatia, a foreign driving licence, an international driving licence or a certificate of filed request for the issuance of the driving licence (a certificate of a filed request for the issuance of the driving licence is valid for operating motor vehicles in road traffic 30 days from the date the request was filed) for the category which is being operated may operate a motor vehicle in road traffic. When operating a motor vehicle, the driver must have with him/her the driving licence or the certificate of filed request for the issuance of the driving licence and show it at the request of a police officer. In addition, the driver that operates a motor vehicle in road traffic must have with him/her the vehicle registration certificate, and show it at the request of a police officer. The vehicle registration certificate must not be left in the vehicle without the driver's supervision.

Motor vehicles and trailers may participate in road traffic on the territory of the Republic of Croatia if registered and if they have a valid vehicle registration certificate. Exceptionally, motor vehicles and trailers that are insured and have temporary licence plates do not have to be registered.

The driver who enters the territory of the Republic of Croatia with a motor vehicle holding a foreign registration or an EEA registration must have a valid international motor vehicle insurance policy that is valid in the territory of the EU or some other proof of the existence of such insurance. The proof of existence of an international document is the official licence plate of the vehicle that is normally stationed in the territory of the country whose national bureau has signed the Multilateral Agreement (EEA member countries and other associate countries), and a valid Green Card issued for the vehicle that comes from the country whose national insurance bureau is not a signatory to the Multilateral Agreement (member countries of the 'Green Card Insurance System', signatories to the Crete Agreement) and other documents and proofs the validity of which is recognised by the Croatian Insurance Bureau.

The car rental (rent-a-car) terms and conditions are established by the 'Rental Agreement' and the General Terms and Conditions which constitute an integral part of the indicated Agreement.

SAILING IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

The commander of a vessel entering the territorial waters of the Republic of Croatia by sea must carry out border control formalities, undergo border control, certify the list of crew and passengers on board at the harbourmaster's office or branch office; to pay the prescribed fees for the safety of navigation and sea protection against pollution; to pay the tourist tax and register the stay of foreign nationals on board in accordance with special regulations.

The commander of a vessel, entering Croatia by land or which has been moored in the harbour or other approved location in the Republic of Croatia, must, prior to setting out to sea, pay the prescribed fees for safety of navigation and sea protection against pollution, pay a tourist tax and register the stay of foreign nationals on the boat in accordance with special regulations.

From 1 January 2014 foreign vessels, as well as vessels bearing the Croatian flag, are obliged to pay fees for the safety of navigation and protection from pollution. The fees depend on the length of the vessel and engine power. They are payable for the calendar year regardless of the period of navigation in the territorial sea and internal waters of the Republic of Croatia.

Sojourn Tax

Owners or users of vessels and all persons which stay overnight on a boat which is more than 5 m in length and used for holidays, recreation or sailing are required to pay a flat rate sojourn tax.

The sojourn tax must be paid in the harbour-master's office (or its branch office) before the departure of the boat to sea, as a flat rate for residence periods of 8, 15, 30 or 90 days, or 1 year.

FOOD AND DRINK

Where to eat?

Apart from hotels offering both full board and half board accommodation, there are restaurants, inns, taverns, wine cellars, pizzerias, and fast-food outlets in all tourist towns and along the main roads. Restaurants and inns offering local Croatian cuisine will be of particular interest to gourmets.

All foods of animal origin are subject to the same standards as in EU countries and are under constant veterinary and health supervision.

What to eat?

In addition to standard European cuisine, Croatia offers its most popular local dishes and specialities. Among cold dishes, there are the renowned Dalmatian or Istrian prosciuttos, cheeses from the island of Pag and the Lika region, sheep's cheese, Slavonian 'kulen' (a spicy cured pork meat speciality), the renowned garlic sausages ('češnjovka') of Samobor and the Zagorje region, fresh cottage cheese with cream, and more. The main dishes on offer vary depending on the area that you are visiting. In Dalmatia, the Primorje coastal area, on the islands and in Istria, they are based large on fish and other seafood, while typical meat dishes include 'pašticada' (a stewed beef dish) and cooked lamb. In the continental part of Croatia, the meat offer is very wide, and specialties include turkey with mlinci, 'svinjska pisanica' (pork fillet), roasted lamb, baked pork and cooked or baked štrukli (pastry with cheese). Sweets include the nut roll (walnut and poppy seed variants) and strudels with cheese and different types of fruit.

What to drink?

The cultivation of grapes and production of select wines is a centuries-old tradition among Croatian viticulturists both in continental Croatia and the coastal area and Dalmatia. Some of the best-known varieties of Croatian red wines along the Adriatic coast and on the islands are: teran, merlot, cabernet, opolo, plavac, dingač and postup, while the most appreciated of the white wine varieties are: malvasia, pošip, pinot, kujundžuša, žlahtina, muscat and many others. In continental parts, one can enjoy the famous graševina, frankovka, sauvignon, yellow muscat, pinot noir, traminer, as well as merlot, cabernet sauvignon, cabernet franc, and other varieties. As far as spirits go, the most famous are the 'šljivovica' (plum brandy), 'travarica', 'lozovača' and 'biska', while dessert drinks include Prošek and Maraschino.
