Welcome!

Croatia is characterized by its long tradition as a Mediterranean heaven for camping enthusiasts and camping tourism is very well developed and extensive. Thanks to new highway connections and to the growing number of low cost flights, today, more than ever, it is easier and faster to arrive to Croatia and travel through it, regardless of whether your destination is Istra, Kvarner, Dalmatia, one of the islands or the continental part of Croatia.

You have chosen OK Mini Camps, the selection of the best small campsites brought to you by the Croatian Camping Association. Well done!

OK Mini campsites are smaller campsites with capacity of up to 200 people and they represent an ideal escape from the rush and stress and enable you to enjoy your holiday in family surroundings – local people offer their fields and gardens for tents, campers and camping trailers, which is certainly the fastest way to get acquainted with the country and its people, their tradition, habits and gastronomy. For the most part mini camps are located near the sea and along main roads, they are easily accessible and convenient, which makes them a perfect starting point for everyday excursions in the surrounding area, whilst at the same time they are a real alternative for quick-stops for the ones traveling by camper, so it isn't surprising that they are a beloved destination for the seekers of an individual holiday experience.

In order for your holiday to be really relaxing and to ensure that you avoid unpleasant surprises on arrival at your chosen camping destination, we have selected quality small campsites that meet an entire range of standards and criteria, from the campsite's entrance, pitches, sanitary facilities, additional services and facilities to the care for the environment.

We wish you a unique holiday with a personal touch!

ISTRIA

The green Mediterranean

Multi-cultural and hospitable, Istria is a wondrous Croatian peninsula which, in a small area, brings together, in a very special and gratifying manner, a multitude of diverse attractions. Its crystal-clear sea (the nearest warm sea for many Europeans), its shoreline and beaches, its bustling ports, marinas, lively fishing boats and smooth stone streets speak with a genuine charm of the warm Mediterranean, while the picturesque medieval towns perched atop the hills of the Istrian hinterland exude peace and mellowness of the continent.

Whereas along the shore, in Pula, Rovinj, Vrsar, Poreč, Novigrad or even in Umag, the legacy of both the Antiquity and the magnificent Serenissima, or rather Venice, is readily identifiable, in the heartland of Istria the spirit of central Europe is clear to see and feel. Istria is one of the most developed tourist regions in the Mediterranean, its ideal climate ensuring a full five-month bathing season. It has to be stressed, though, that tourism in Istria has long since ceased being a seasonal activity and has become a way of life the year-round, which makes it a truly perfect destination able to meet the wishes of every type of visitor.

Istria - relaxing camping route immersed in green and blue...

Our TOP 5 “not to miss” list:

- Rovinj and its old town
- Poreč with its Euphrasian Basilica
- Motovun and Grožnjan, small medieval towns in the hinterland
- Brijuni National Park
- Rt Kamenjak, southernmost point of the region adorned with beautiful beaches

Regional gastro specialities:

- Istrian prosciutto, goat cheese and olive oil
- Variety of pastas with truffles
- Teran (red) and Malvazija (white) wines

INLAND CROATIA

Because Croatia is not just blue

Croatia's inland features many tourist attractions. In the part where the lowland becomes the highland, at an altitude of about 600 meters above the sea level, lies the National Park of Plitvice Lakes (Plitvička jezera). It's a natural phenomenon and an ecologically sensitive hydro-geological system of lake, which has been included into the UNESCO's list of cultural and natural heritage sites (World Heritage List), and which is visited by hundreds of thousands of visitors yearly.

Central Croatia is dominated by Zagreb, Croatian capital and cultural, scientific, university, economic, but also business and congress top destination. Bigger towns of the central Croatia are Varaždin, Čakovec, Karlovac, Koprivnica and Bjelovar.

Heal your body and soul & this region has a well-developed health and country tourism, and its landmarks are old-noble-families' castles (Trakošćan, Veliki Tabor) and numerous health thermal resorts (Stubica, Krapina, Tuhelj and Varaždin). The eastern region, Slavonija, with towns like Osijek, Slavonski Brod, Vinkovci, Vukovar, Pakovo, Ilok and many others, has developed a wide hunting, fishing and rural offer. In Slavonija there are also numerous castles and noble families' country houses, as well as some renowned wine cellars.
